Hiring Manager

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in the Backend Developer position. With over 1.5 years of professional experience as an intern and trainee developer at Outlines R&D, combined with my academic and project work in backend development and machine learning applications, I am confident in my ability to contribute effectively to your development team.

During my time at Outlines R&D, I gained hands-on experience in PHP development using CodeIgniter 3 and Laravel frameworks, where I worked on building and maintaining scalable web applications. My responsibilities included developing and integrating RESTful APIs, managing MySQL/PostgreSQL databases, implementing authentication and role-based access systems, and optimizing application performance through query tuning and caching strategies. I collaborated closely with team members in an Agile/Scrum environment, utilizing Git for version control and ensuring smooth project delivery.

In addition to my professional experience, I have also worked on a Diabetes Prediction and Food Recommendation System as part of my academic project. This project involved developing a Django backend with REST APIs, applying machine learning models for health prediction, and integrating a personalized recommendation engine. This experience strengthened my ability to design data-driven solutions, manage databases, and deploy applications on Ubuntu servers.

I am eager to bring my skills in backend development, API design, and database management to your team. My strong foundation in backend technologies, combined with a passion for clean, maintainable, and scalable code, makes me a strong fit for this role.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my background and skills align with your needs. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the possibility of contributing to your team's success.

Sincerely,
Animesh Shakya
